Home School Registration Information

Dear Parent,

As you begin the process of teaching your child(ren) at home, the following information may be useful.

A parent of a minor who attends home school is responsible for:

- The selection of instructional materials and textbook
- The time, place, and method of instruction
- The evaluation of the home school instruction

Each minor who attends home school shall receive instruction:

- For the same length of time as required in public schools, which is 180 days or 990 hours (approximately 5 ½ hours per day).
- In the subjects the State Board of Education requires to be taught in public schools, the State Core Curriculum, which is available through our Curriculum Department or online at www.usoe.k12.ut.us.

Support information from district:

- You may dual enroll your student for less than halftime in your boundary public school. You may access required classes as well as non-required classes by working with the counselors at the boundary school. It is imperative to work with the boundary school counselor to meet district requirements if graduation from a Jordan School District high school is desired.
- A student enrolled in online schools through Alpine, Davis, Washington Districts or enrolled in the Utah Virtual Academy Charter school may not dual enroll in a Jordan District school.
- Elementary students have the opportunity to be tested with all U-PASS assessments, except the IOWA test, only at their boundary school and at the scheduled testing time. To take the IOWA test, students must be enrolled in one or more courses at the boundary school. You will need to contact the boundary school directly to arrange for testing dates and times.
- Secondary students who are enrolled in one or more core courses at their boundary school have the opportunity to be tested with all U-PASS assessments, only at their boundary school and at the scheduled testing time. Secondary Home School students who are not enrolled must pay a requisite fee in order to participate in testing. It is necessary to contact the boundary school directly to arrange for testing dates and times.
- Private school students have the opportunity to be tested with all U-PASS assessments, except the IOWA test, only at the boundary school, and by paying a requisite fee. To take the IOWA test, students must be enrolled in one or more courses at the boundary school. Accountability and Program Services will assist with contacting the school for testing arrangements.
- In order for the state to score the tests of students who are not enrolled at the boundary school, it is necessary to make arrangements with Clyde Mason at 567-8243.
- The Instructional Support Center, located at Terra Linda Elementary, 8400 South 3400 West, is available for your use after your registration is recorded by the Board of Education. Your name will be submitted on a list at each of these sites.

Resource information:

The Salt Lake County Library system has many resources for Home School parents. Please check their website at www.slco.lib.ut.ut/homesch.htm.

The Electronic High School courses, which align with the Utah State Core Curriculum, are a good option for students in grades 9-12. Students who complete courses from EHS will have a transcript mailed to their local school of residence with the grade and credit earned. The EHS website is www.ehs.uen.org. Credit awarded from any other Utah Department of Education accredited home school program may be applied toward high school graduation. If the student intends to graduate from a Jordan District High School, they must consult with the school counselor to make sure state and Jordan District graduation requirements are met.
