B. Math Assistance for Parents to Help Their Children

Wendy Harmon, math consultant for Curriculum and Staff Development, discussed the programs and materials available to parents to assist them in providing math homework help to their children. She said parents will receive information about these materials through flyers that will be sent home with students and Skyler messages. She indicated that classroom posters will also be provided to elementary and secondary teachers. Ms. Harmon said last year the Board requested that student math homework include one problem worked by the teacher so parents have an example to refer to, if needed, and this is being done. She provided information about school math night activities and programs, activities of the District math specialists, recommendations for student math homework, and formative assessments developed to assist teachers in determining student understanding of math concepts. Ms. Harmon noted that a District-wide Elementary Math Night will be held for parents on September 30, 2015, from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. at South Jordan Elementary School. It will be an open house format designed to provide parents with information about the math helps available on the District website, a demonstration of using Think Central and other programs, and to answer questions parents may have about the math programs. She said a Secondary Math Night has been planned for September 24, 2015, from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. at JATC North in the same open house format.

C. Discussion on Recommendations for Capital Outlay Projects for Summer 2016

Kayleen Whitelock presented a list of Capital Outlay projects recommended for completion during the summer of 2016. The estimated cost of these projects is $12.3 million. The Board Facilities and Finance Committees worked in conjunction with each other to prepare the recommendations. President Pulsipher noted that the projects will come before the Board for formal approval at the September Board meeting.

Scott Thomas, administrator of Auxiliary Services, expressed appreciation to the Board for authorizing next summer’s projects and stated that this advanced planning will provide the Maintenance Department more opportunity to obtain favorable bids.

D. Middle School Course Requirements

Laura Finlinson, administrator of Curriculum and Staff Development, provided Board members with a copy of the current middle and high school class requirements and noted that significant course requirement changes were recently approved by the Board. Mrs. Finlinson and Mr. Anderson, administrator of schools, reviewed these changes.

Mr. Anderson stated that a couple of years ago middle schools transitioned from a half year to a full year of seventh grade science. Mrs. Finlinson added that Jordan District is unique in that for many years it has required middle school reading courses and while reading is beneficial to students, there are other content areas that are also important. She said starting this year, the reading class is only required for students testing below grade level and students testing at or above grade level have the option to take elective courses in subject areas such as language, fine arts, physical education, etc. Mr. Anderson also noted that several course offerings that were not previously available to seventh grade students are now available such as world languages. This was done in preparation for the elementary Dual Immersion students that will be entering middle school next year.

Mrs. Finlinson reviewed preliminary SAGE data regarding reading scores for seventh and eighth grade students and noted that the teacher is at the forefront of insuring that students are reading on grade level. She said professional development efforts are focused on assisting teachers with reading strategies that benefit students. Teachers were also provided collaboration time to assist each other, which resulted in the creation of some fantastic lesson plans that focused on strategies for helping struggling students. She also noted that trainings will be held for teachers interested in having these materials available to them.

Mrs. Finlinson said statistically, 28 percent of seventh grade students and 29 percent of eighth grade students are in reading classes this year. The overall District-wide SAGE score shows improvement; however, there is room for more improvement.

Mrs. Whitelock expressed that she would like to receive concrete data about the benefit students receive from taking a middle school reading course. She questioned whether students could benefit more from elective courses, such as music, to develop skills in different ways, or if reading strategies could be taught or reinforced in other classes such as language arts, science, history, etc. Mrs. Finlinson responded that it will be important to gather more information about the benefit of the reading class prior to eliminating this requirement. The Board asked Mrs. Finlinson to also gather data about the number of students who are required to take the middle school reading class and the number of students who take it as an elective. The Board asked Mrs. Finlinson to bring this matter back for Board review at an appropriate time in the near future.

At 6:25 p.m., the meeting adjourned. The regular session started at 6:40 p.m.

IV. Information Items

A. Superintendent’s Report

Superintendent Johnson said the District experienced a great beginning to the new school year and preliminary numbers indicate a student enrollment of 52,857, which is approximately 1,200 students above the projected enrollment of 51,685. She indicated that additional teachers will need to be hired to adjust for the increase in students.

Superintendent Johnson shared an excerpt from a letter received from the Utah State Office of Education regarding the District’s oversight of Title II funding:
“All teachers assigned to teach core subjects are highly qualified in their assignment. The District Compliance Plan is thorough with explicit descriptions of actions of both teachers and administrators, District-level and school-level, its deadlines, and acknowledgement of priorities in most-needed support. Your response to the finding more than satisfies the requirements to meet the expectations as specified in Title II. This is one of the most outstanding Plans I’ve seen in my experience in this position.”

Dr. Johnson expressed appreciation to the following individuals for the exceptional work in insuring that teachers are highly-qualified: June LeMaster, administrator for Human Resources, Travis Hamblin, licensed administrator for Human Resources, Jill Lisonbee and Stacy Krahenbuhl, elementary and secondary Human Resource assistants, Laura Finlinson, administrator for Curriculum and Staff Development, Noreen Samowitz, administrative assistant to Laura Finlinson, Nancy Ward, coordinator for Educational Support Services, and Shelly Nordick, consultant for Instructional Support Services.

Dr. Johnson expressed appreciation to Scott Thomas, Dave Rostrom, and Maintenance personnel for the 10-week summer project miracles completed at Oquirrh Hills Middle, Joel P. Jensen Middle, Southland Elementary, and at the JATC South Campus. She said the personnel and students she has spoken with in these buildings are very appreciative of the improved learning environment. She also expressed appreciation to the Board of Education for allotting the dollars to make this happen for these students. Dr. Johnson said the principal at Oquirrh Hills Middle School commented that it will be great not to see sweat dripping from the kids during SAGE testing thanks to the installation of air conditioning.

Dr. Johnson said last Friday morning the first PLC visit was held at Daybreak Elementary and it was a treat to see “Every Child, Every Day” in action at that school. She reported that last year the school’s fifth grade team came up with a plan for carving out a block of time to be used to provide intervention for struggling students. The plan included using PLC money to hire a specialist/aid to teach for a 45-minute block of time. During this time, the specialist/aid teaches subjects such as library, computers, physical education, music, art, or character education and this allows the classroom teacher time to work with individual students. This plan was so successful it was adopted throughout the school.

Dr. Johnson invited Board members to attend the next PLC visit at Jordan Ridge Elementary on Friday morning, August 28, 2015

Dr. Johnson invited Scott Thomas, administrator for Auxiliary Services, to present the following report:

1. Facilities Progress Report

   Mr. Scott Thomas, administrator for Auxiliary Services, reviewed the progress of current Capital Outlay projects. A copy of the Facilities Progress Report is attached at the conclusion of these minutes. (Attachment 6)

V. Discussion Items

A. Board Member Committee Reports and Comments

   Mr. Osborn said he represents Jordan District as a member of the Board of the Utah High School Activities Association and will be attending a meeting of the Association this Thursday. He noted that the following Thursday he will be attending a meeting of the Realignment Committee. Mr. Osborn said his other committee assignment is to serve as a member of the PTA Board which he said is a wonderful group and he is looking forward to attending an upcoming PTA meeting. Mr. Osborn said he wanted it publicly known that he met with Welby Elementary administrators and teachers and in addition to the fact that they love the upgrades and changes to the school, they
Mrs. Whitelock thanked Mr. Osborn for serving on the Board of the Utah High School Activities Association and said this position was held by her predecessor so she is grateful to him for taking this responsibility. Mrs. Whitelock said Mr. Osborn’s comments about Elk Ridge were right and this morning the Elk Ridge principal and a South Jordan police officer were helping to direct traffic in both the morning and afternoon due to re-striping of the parking lot. She said the new striping will be great once the parents learn the new pattern. She thanked the South Jordan Police Department for providing assistance to the parents. Mrs. Whitelock said the Board Facilities Committee meets regularly and information was shared during study session and earlier in this meeting. She said the Board is working towards building two new elementary schools and shared the following timeline for construction: August: agreed on architectural fees which were lower than staff projections. September: staff will be meeting with developers on both sites and agreeing on the site plans and building layouts; weekly design meetings will begin with architects and engineers. December: pre-qualification of general contractors. January: plans put out to bid and contractors selected and approved at the January Board meeting. February: contracts and bonds completed. March: construction begins with an estimated completion of July 1, 2017. Mrs. Whitelock expressed appreciation to staff members for putting this timeline together. She stated that the summer 2016 projects list was reviewed in study session and gave a “shout-out” to Dave Rostrom and Maintenance and Auxiliary Services employees for the great work done this past summer’s projects and for the contractors that agreed to complete projects in a short period of time.

Mrs. Atwood expressed appreciation to Scott Thomas and Dave Rostrom for overseeing the summer projects. She said she attended the Joel P. Jensen Back to School night and school personnel expressed to her how much they appreciated the Copper Valley Construction employees for the accommodating and easy way in which they responded to their needs. She said it is important for school personnel to feel comfortable during construction projects. Mrs. Atwood also attended Back to School nights at West Jordan, Westland, and Heartland Elementary Schools and was impressed with the parent/student participation. She thanked the schools that provided information stations for parents to learn about the benefits of an active School Community Council.

Mrs. Voorhies said she serves on five committees, two of which have not yet met this school year. She serves on the Board Facilities and Legislative Committees, as well as the School Community Council Advisory Committee, of which Mrs. Atwood is the chair. Mrs. Voorhies expressed appreciation to Mr. Anderson, administrator of schools, for working hard to strengthen the School Community Councils at every school. She said the Utah Legislature decided that School Community Councils should be responsible for designating the use of Trust Land funds and so it is important to have Councils that are willing to invest their time in order to recognize the needs of the school and determine how the funds will most benefit the school. Mrs. Voorhies said School Community Council members at each of the schools volunteered their time during Back to School nights to recruit new members and to work to build a coalition of parents so that every school has a Council that is actively involved in the decision-making process.

Mr. Crane said he serves on the Salt Lake County Parks and Recreation Advisory Board and will try to represent the District well when they meet the early part of next month. Mr. Crane said it has been an honor to serve on the Board Finance and Board Facilities Committees and to be involved in the details of finances and facilities. Mr. Crane said it was a positive experience for him to call patrons with respect to the upcoming “What Counts?” activity. He said he never received a negative comment or vibe from any of the people with whom he spoke, including those that said they would not be able to participate. He said this is an indication of the attitude the community has about Jordan District and what it is doing. Mr. Crane noted that Mr. Birch, principal of Herriman High, ends his talks with “It’s a great day to be a Mustang,” so he wanted to say, “It’s a great day to be a member of the Jordan Board of Education.”

Mrs. Pulsipher expressed her agreement with Mr. Crane and said she has never felt better about Jordan School District. She is pleased with the work of staff and Board members on the various Board committees and for the many other ways they help to move the work forward. Mrs. Pulsipher said she serves on the Board Finance Committee, which has been a great experience, and Mr. Young, chair of the Committee, will report the work of the Committee when he returns. She did, however, say that a Finance Committee meeting was held last week and the plan is to meet every two weeks to accomplish the work that needs to be done. Mrs. Pulsipher said she also serves as chair of the Board Legislative Committee, a member of the Board Community Relations Committee, and as a member of the Board of Directors for the Utah School Boards Association. Mrs. Pulsipher said a majority of her work with USBA has been preparing for the USBA Delegate Assembly. She said two members of the Jordan Board’s Legislative Committee were designated as delegates and attended the USBA Delegate Assembly where the legislative priorities for 2016 were ratified.

Mrs. Whitelock reported that at the Delegate Assembly, the USBA resolution the Board reviewed at a recent study session did not pass. Mrs. Pulsipher added that this resolution addressed the number of education bills the legislature puts forward each year and since this is still an issue of concern, it may come up again.

Mrs. Pulsipher reminded Board members about an upcoming USBA Leadership Academy to be held at Zermatt in Midway, Utah. She said she hopes Board members will be able to take advantage of this professional development opportunity and learn and grow from the information shared at these meetings. Mrs. Pulsipher said next week, September 2-3, 2015, all of the education entities in the legislature will be meeting in Cedar City to discuss what they want to happen. She said the Governor’s Office has a strategic plan and the State Board is creating a strategic plan as per legislation, and she understands that there will be an attempt to merge these two plans. Mrs. Pulsipher said school board members throughout the State have been invited to attend. She asked for the Board’s support for her attendance at this meeting, which they provided. Mrs. Pulsipher said she is pleased with the JATC South facility and the new Board meeting rooms and expressed appreciation for the those who worked hard to have the Board rooms ready for tonight’s meeting, particularly the audio visual people who worked to insure that the mics and video capabilities are working. She said she is most pleased with the fact that the JATC South campus is a multi-use facility and is open to use by city leaders and others.

MOTION: At 8:25 p.m., it was moved by Richard S. Osborn to adjourn the meeting. Motion passed with a unanimous vote.
